III. Current Status

The audit group will be here in Dec. and want to meet with school council on Dec. 12th from 3:00-4:00. They want to see that the state standards are met.

The holiday shop is the 11th thru the 15th. Also the coat drive is still going and John's cleaners are cleaning the coats for us.

Security Drills:

Pouches were designed to hang behind the doors with directions on them in case of an emergency. They also have a key in them and a class list with emergency info. for all the children.

A facilities committee was designed to bring the high school and Green Meadow up to code. A wish list was made for the following: better air quality and distribution, more space for classes and storage.

The district is updating the website for all of the schools and itself. They want it to be more user friendly. They are looking for photo shop help

Dec 15th early release.

V. School Improvement Plan – Each school and the district have different formats for there school improvement plans. The district comes out with there plan in October. The state requires each school to have there own plan. However there is an overlap between the districts plan and the school plans.

All classes are standardized and use a pacing guide. The Scott Forsman curriculum is used in all the class rooms. This is for K-5, however each class makes it s own decision for the best result from the children. Improvements are always on going. Team time was on the last early release. It was to talk about what works and what does not work for the children.

Safety Goals: How to improve safety at Green Meadow.

A badge system was put in place that all staff have to wear one. A sign in system for anyone enter the building and Mr. Locks was put in place. A duty teacher was put in place at the library in the morning when students are arriving. However the PA system is not fully functional in all class rooms and the use of blinds for safety are still up for debate.
